IS TANNHAUSER

Annheuser-Busch Company Fighting Douglas Brand of Beer.

Tombstone, Ariz., Sept. 16,-Tann auser, of Douglas, has won the first ound of a battle of beer in the United States court here over Annheuser, of Before judge Fletcher M. St. Louis. Doan, judge Richardson, of Douglas, who is attorney for the Copper City Brewing company, entered a demurrer, which was allowed by judge Doan, after prolonged arguments by Richardson and attorney Paul Beckwill, of St Louis, who came all the way to Tomb stone to represent the plaintiffs in the cause of the Annheuser-Busch Brewing mpany vs. the Copper City Brewing mpany for alleged infringement on the label which appears on beer bottles the world over, The St. Louis Brewing company is said to be planning to file an injune tion suit against the Douglas brew ery to restrain it from using the name "Tannbauser" as a beer label until the infringement case is finally settled. The suit is for $10,000 damages but the wealthy St. Louis company is desirous only of preventing the use of what it alleges to be an infringement on its label and the case will probably be carried through the higher courts should the lower courts rule adversely. Will Hooks will accompany his aunt, its determination to fight the case to The Douglas company has announced the end and a legal battle is expected where he will attend the university to follow.

similar case was recently decided in favor of the plaintiff in a Chicago court. William Wrigley, fr., the chewng gum manufacturer, of Chicago, brought a similar suit against a company manufacturing gum which was called "Spearmint." The court ruled, according to Printers' Ink, the newspaadvertising publication, that Wrigley, by his expenditure of large sums in advertising the name of his "Spearmint," had given that trade name a value which it did not other possess. For this reason the court ruled, the person who had caused such a value to be fixed to a name was entitled to the benefits according from the

Much Development Work Is Going on There, Ore Is · Shipped Regularly. Capt. J. M. Smith, who has returned from his mine, El Progresso, near Sabinal, reports the following about the Sabinal district. El Progresso carries gold and silver values, also occasionally lead ore which is found in shoots. The silver ore runs from 8 ounces to 500 ounces to the ton. The vein on the surface is three feet wide. At a depth of 300 feet it carries nine feet of pay ore. This property has all of $180 feet of decelopment in shafts, drifts and tunnels,

The Grand Central. Near Sabinal, the Grand Central (if e old Holmes mine), is working two shifts of miners and is a lead and silver The last carload of ore shipped a few days ago netted $40. Mr. Sutton, who is working two unnels, located between the Grand Central and Santo Domingo mines, has not yet reached the ore, but expects to do so in a short time.

Mr. Chase, manager of the Santo Domingo property, is shipping about four cars of ore per week, with more in sight.

All the mines in the Sabinal district are being, or have been already monmented with white, in compliance with the new mining law of Mexico. Alhaving had but little rain.

SANTO DOMINGO IS INSTALLING MILL

Sonora Property Has Already Shown Good Production and Is Working Well.

The first unit of the concentrating mill at the Santo Domingo mine, in the Alamos district, Sonora, having a capacity of 60 tons per day, has been sucessfully installed and is running full blast. Superintendent James R. Hendra reports that an excellent grade of leadsilver-copper concentrates are being roduced.

This mine, controlled by the Sonora Central Mines company, has been systematically developed over a period of three years to an extent of about 2000 feet, most of which is said to be in ore. It is proposed to enlarge this concentrating plant to a capacity of 159 ons per day. The company has working force of over 100 men. It is estimated that the earnings of the mill will be in the neighborhood of $15,000 per month.
